Fundraiser for ICE agent who killed Renee Good notes — then deletes — that Minneapolis Mayor Jacob Frey is Jewish

The campaign removed the language after drawing criticism online.

Defend the Agent Who Stopped a Deadly Attack on America's Border Enforcers!

Supporters of the Immigration and Customs Enforcement officer who shot and killed Renee Good, a U.S. citizen, in Minneapolis last week are flocking to an online fundraiser to, in its organizer's words, "Defend the Agent Who Stopped a Deadly Attack on America's Border Enforcers!"

Included in the fundraiser's pitch: a parenthetical note calling out Minneapolis' mayor Jacob Frey's Jewish identity.

The online account that claimed credit for organizing the fundraiser has made anti-immigrant and antisemitic posts, including one on Monday that blamed Jews for the recent Hanukkah mass shooting in Australia.

The fundraiser's description says Good had engaged "in a blatant act of domestic terrorism aimed at killing or maiming the men protecting our borders from the endless invasion." The description then continued: "But this didn't happen in a vacuum — it's the direct result of anti-American traitors like Minneapolis Mayor Jacob Frey (who is Jewish) fanning the flames of resistance."

The description went on to call Frey a "sanctuary city traitor" and states, "His rhetoric empowers violent agitators, turning Minneapolis into a warzone for our heroes enforcing the law and deporting the hordes that weak leaders like him protect."

The fundraiser was posted Wednesday on GiveSendGo, a crowdfunding website popular with right-wing causes, and has raised more than $186,000 of its $200,000 goal as of Monday afternoon. The co-founder of GiveSendGo, Jacob Wells, has promoted the campaign extensively and claims to have corresponded directly with the ICE agent, Jonathan Ross.

"God bless you all! Keep sharing," Wells wrote on the social network X, receiving positive responses from the actor Dean Cain, among others.

After being circulated online and verified by the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, the clause “(who is Jewish)” was removed from the description of Frey late Monday.

The campaign’s organizer is named as “Tom Hennessey” and appears to have launched the fundraiser before Ross himself was identified. The campaign does not name Ross.

An account named “TomHennessey69” on X who has claimed credit for the fundraiser bills himself as a “white independent journalist” and “soap enthusiast.” In addition to a stream of anti-immigration rhetoric, Hennessey has also made several antisemitic posts, including one on Monday about the Sydney massacre that reflecting the Great Replacement theory promoted widely on the far right.

“Notice the pattern? Jews arrive in Australia, flood it with non-Whites. Non-Whites rampage—eventually turning on Jews. Jews then push new anti-semitism laws aka free speech bans, gun control to disarm Whites, and ban White nationalist groups for noticing,” Hennessey wrote, adding, “Australia, not a good look for jewish diaspora, many such cases.” In another reply to his post, Hennessey endorsed a neo-Nazi account’s pro-Hitler message.

Hennessey has also used similar language as the fundraiser’s to describe his own Jewish opponents.

Online, the GiveSendGo link has been promoted by figures including Turning Point USA pundit Jack Posobiec and Minnesota-based right-wing journalist Liz Collin.

It is not the only fundraiser to have been set up by self-proclaimed supporters of Ross since Good's killing. A separate campaign without antisemitic language launched on GoFundMe, a more mainstream crowdfunding website, has raised more than $467,000 to date since its launch on Friday.

The largest donation to date on the GoFundMe fundraiser, $10,000, came from Bill Ackman, the Jewish activist investor who has become a prominent advocate against antisemitism.

"I am [a] big believer in our legal principal [sic] that one is innocent until proven guilty," Ackman wrote on X over the weekend, in a post about why he donated. He added that he had "intended to similarly support the gofundme for Renee Good's family" but that "her gofundme was closed by the time I attempted to provide support."

Comments online suggest that the two fundraisers for Ross may be linked and may have a direct line to Ross himself.

In a Sunday update, the GoFundMe campaign's organizer, Clyde Emmons, wrote, "the creator [sic] of the givesendgo fund has direct contact with Johnathan! so I am in contact with him gave him my number and he said he would pass it onto John himself so I can finally add him as the beneficiary so he can get these funds he deserves."

On X, Collin wrote that she was in contact with both organizers and that the GiveSendGo campaign is "now the preferred method to donate to the ICE agent."

The fundraisers for Ross were launched partly as a response to a GoFundMe for Good's family, which raised more than $1.5 million before its organizers closed donations.

"Renee was a Christian who knew that all religions teach the same essential truth: we are here to love each other, care for each other, and keep each other safe and whole," that campaign's organizers wrote.

Comparisons between ICE agents and Nazis or the Gestapo have grown since the agency has stepped up its presence in American cities under President Donald Trump's mass deportation plans. Some Jewish communal leaders, including several in Minnesota, have vocally criticized ICE's actions, with a few linking them to the memory of the Holocaust.

Since Good's killing, Frey has vocally criticized ICE's presence in Minneapolis, using an expletive in a press conference as he urged the agents to leave. The fundraiser's description of the mayor notes this, also blasting Frey for his executive orders.

"These agents are the tip of the spear in reclaiming our country from the illegal invasion—deporting criminals, invaders, and threats that politicians like Frey invited in and shield," the description states.

It concludes: "Stand tall: Donate today to send a message that we back the men removing illegals and invaders from our soil, no matter the sabotage from mayors who put foreigners over Americans. No apologies, no retreat—Mass Deportations Now!"
